As of our most recent project milestone, our team has successfully implemented the main gameplay functionality of our game, which includes a fully operational intro start screen and essential game mechanics. In addition, we have integrated several exciting features, such as power-ups, which have enriched the gameplay experience and added an extra layer of engagement for players. Our progress aligns well with our proposed project timeline, indicating that we are on track with our development goals.

Looking ahead, our focus will shift towards enhancing the game's aesthetic appeal and user interface. We plan to introduce additional UI elements to create a more visually appealing and intuitive experience. Moreover, we aim to refine the gameplay smoothness, ensuring that player interactions are fluid and responsive. While the core functionality is essentially complete, the next phase will involve stylistic enhancements and minor gameplay additions such as integrating lives, background music, and sound effects to enrich the overall atmosphere and dynamism of the game.
